

Did you get your steps in today?

Researchers at the University of Kentucky are inviting you to participate in a research study investigating the association between physical activity and pain intensity. Participants will be required to make only two visits to the Dental Research Clinic. Study period is one week. Fitbit pedometers will be provided during the study.

Participants will receive a gift card upon completion of the study.

You may be eligible to participate if you are a UK student, resident, or staff member.
